

7th Job Market Simulation Call for Submissions

The European Marketing Academy (EMAC) is organizing the 7th Job Market Simulation.

The goal of this workshop is helping students who are seeking a tenure-track position in marketing at a business school that recruits in the summer/fall of 2025.

The workshop will be held on May 27 from 2-5 p.m. in Madrid, Spain. It will run immediately after the Doctoral Colloquium (DC). This means that students who are planning to apply for the Doctoral Consortium may also apply for this workshop. However, the admission processes for these two events are independent.

The Job Market Simulation will focus primarily on the research presentation the students are expected to make during their first-round interviews, where participants of the workshop will have the opportunity to present twice to a group of professors to practice and get feedback. The workshop will also address several do's and don'ts of the first-round interviews as well as campus visits in an online kick-off meeting.

Application materials:

- One-page motivation letter from the student (Please clearly state that you are seeking a tenure-track position in the summer/fall of 2025, and also if you do not want us to share your profile with hiring schools.)
- Curriculum vitae
- Recommendation letter from the advisor
- Job market paper (Please include only one paper that is not yet accepted for publication but may currently be under review at a journal.)

Submission link: <https://www.xcdsystem.com/eiasm/abstract/index.cfm?ID=Q4zZShO>

Submission deadline: March 15, 2025, 12:00 CET

If admitted to the Job Market Simulation, students will be required to register and pay a fee of 35 Euros.

Organizers:

Peter Ebbes (HEC Paris)

Jacob Goldenberg (Reichman University)

Andreas Lanz (University of Basel)

Questions should be directed to Andreas Lanz (andreas.lanz@unibas.ch).